Signs and believing in John's gospel

The New Testament does not use the word 'miracle.' Matthew, Mark, and Luke describe Jesus' extraordinary acts as 'deeds of power.' These powerful deeds are used to demonstrate that Jesus is overthrowing the power of Satan and establishing the Kingdom of God. In these three gospels (called 'the synoptic gospels') there are numerous and various powerful deeds - exorcism, healing, raising from the dead, and controlling nature (e.g., calming the storm at sea, walking on water). John's gospel, however, uses the word 'signs' to describe these deeds, though Jesus himself calls them 'works.' These signs are used to reveal aspects of the identity of Jesus. John is selective, describing only seven signs. He is also circumspect; his descriptions tend to downplay the miraculous aspects and keep the focus on Jesus.

For John 'signs' are ambivalent; they are not compelling proofs that overwhelm and convince a person to believe in Jesus. Indeed, it can happen that among people who see Jesus perform the same sign, some will believe, and some will resolve to destroy him. Such is the reaction to raising Lazarus from the dead - the High Priest, Caiaphas, persuades the council that Jesus must die (11:45-53) but many do indeed come to believe in Jesus. When people see signs and come truly to believe in Jesus, the sign has achieved its purpose (6:69; 9:38). Between these all-or-nothing alternatives there is the possibility of seeing a sign and believing - but believing inadequately. Many people in John's gospel want to 'see signs' so as to be convinced that Jesus is who he claims to be; in other words, they don't want faith, they want proof (6:30). Such signs Jesus steadfastly refuses to give. Others see signs and believe in Jesus as a wonder worker: their faith stops at the sign itself. Jesus considers this faith inadequate (e.g., 2:23-25; 4:46-48).

Though signs can lead to faith, Jesus concludes that the best faith is that which needs no signs: 'Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have come to believe' (20:29).

Potluck Dinner

On Saturday 9th March the parish welcomes the school children from SFX Primary who will assist at the 5pm Mass. Mass will be followed by a potluck dinner in the pergola area. All are welcome, please bring a plate of food to share.

Fr. Mkude's Installation & Welcome Brunch.

On Sunday 17th March we will celebrate a new chapter in our parish's long history with the installation of our new Parish Priest,

Fr. Mkude. This will be an opportunity for our parish to gather together in unity, and to reflect on the challenges and triumphs of the past, while embracing our future. The parish will welcome Archbishop Mark Coleridge for this special Eucharistic Celebration. 9am Mass will be followed by brunch. We will be doing a sausage sizzle, but if you would like to bring something, please bring a plate to share. Please bring a chair or a blanket.

Volunteers Required

1. Easter Volunteers We are looking for volunteers (young and old) to assist with the liturgical activities over the Easter long weekend. Could those interested in assisting with Bible Readings, Prayers of the Faithful and Eucharistic Ministry, please provide their names to the Mass Coordinators after Mass or contact the Parish Office.

2. Baptism Coordinators

We are also seeking volunteers to become the Baptism Coordinators for our Parish. Those interested should speak to Fr. Mkude or contact the parish office. goodna@bne.catholic.net.au
