GOOD NEWS: Be Ready Today

The message of the parable is very clear: be ready for the coming of the Lord.

Yet we have an amazing capacity of complicating the simple and for casting a fog of confusion over what should be perfectly clear.

Nothing is more obvious about human life that the fact that everybody must die and some time. Yet our confused minds make us think and act as if we had the right to live on here for ever. As secularistic thinking takes more of a grip on people's mind, death is becoming a taboo subject. The inevitability of death is not being honestly faced. Coping with bereavement is becoming a widespread problem. People are tending to live with no thought of where the journey of life is going.

There is a sharp ray of wisdom in the story about the tree devils who were planning a strategy to confuse our thinking and lead us astray. The first said: 'tell them there is no hell, so there is nothing to be afraid of.' the second disagreed; "No, that's not enough. Some of them fancy that they act for more noble motives than fear. Why not tell them that there is no heaven. Take away all hope, take away a future to look forward to.' The third spoke out of experience of his years: 'Forget about this heaven or hell tactic. That is all too unreal for them. I know how they live and how they think> You must meet them where they are. Don't bother telling them there is no hell. Don't tell them there is no heaven, just tell them there is no hurry.'

The story of the ten bridesmaids reaches its climatic moment when the heavy crossbar falls into place and the door is closed. The heavy oriental door was a complicated affair. So, from that moment on, there is a clear separation of the wise, who were inside he door, from the unwise, who were outside. It was the moment of ending the time waiting and beginning the festivities.

One of our central beliefs in Christianity is about facing the light of judgement when we die. The doctrine that developed in the growth of sacred Scripture maintains that there is life after death: and that it is either a life of glory and reward or a life of damnation and punishment.

Earlier in Matthew we came across the mixture of good and bad in the earthly kingdom: wheat and weeds in the one field, good fish and useless in one net. The sorting out would not take place until the final day of judgement and separation. The moment of death is when the door is closed. The time of experimentation with the kingdom is over. The examination has started and it is too late for cramming: you have signed your name to the document and it is too late to pull back from the contract.

When we wonder about our readiness for that final examination the best indicator is our readiness to answer the call today. The past is gone. The future has not come back to meet us. Each present day is all we have to cope with. 'if you hear his voice today, harden not your hearts', said the psalmist. Today is the day you are to hear the call of the bridegroom, and bear his light, and be ready to follow him.

Share the Dignity have a Christmas appeal called It's in the Bag which as a Parish we will be participating in.

You have the power to make life better for a woman or girl experiencing homelessness or poverty this Christmas. Donate to our Christmas collection "It's in the Bag". Provide Sanitary items, personal hygiene products and everyday luxuries to homeless women, women at risk or women experiencing domestic violence. It's simple. First of all, choose a handbag you no longer use. Then, fill it with essential items like Sanitary items, toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, shampoo, conditioner then anything else that would make a woman or girl feel special. Pop in a thoughtful note or Christmas card and show her someone cares. Show her that she matters because everyone deserves to feel that way.

Don't forget the teenage girls either if you do a teenage bag tie a yellow ribbon onto the handles so the volunteers who distribute know that that bag is for a teenager.

Next time you're at the shops, collect a few items for your Christmas handbag. Drop your completed bag into the Parish office.

I need to have all bags by the end of November so that I can drop them at the designated drop off point by the 2nd December. Thank you Marie

Spirituality for Life

Each one of you has received a special grace, so, like good stewards response-able for all these varied graces of God, put it out at the service of others.” (1 Peter 4:10)

November 12, 2017 - 32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

“Therefore, stay awake, for you know neither the day nor the hour.” - MATTHEW 25:13

Many of us have put off doing something because we think we are too busy. We’ve all said, “I’ll do it later when I have time.” Unfortunately, too many of us apply this attitude to our Faith. Jesus’ call is urgent, in the here and now, in your current circumstances. Don’t delay, how is God calling you to use your gifts today?

JESUS WAY – THE EXAMPLE OF JESUS

In Jesus’ teaching and life, self-emptying is fundamental. His self-emptying is not sterile self-denial for its own sake; rather in setting aside self, He is filled with the Father’s will, . . . The Beatitudes and the rest of the Sermon on the Mount prescribe the life-style of a Christian disciple. Although (the lifestyle of a Christian disciple) does not suit worldly tastes, the wisdom of this world is foolishness in the eyes of God.

Stewardship – A Disciple’s Response. A Pastoral Letter on Stewardship.

How blest are the poor in spirit, the reign of God is theirs.

Blest too are the sorrowing; they shall be consoled.

Blest are the lowly; they shall inherit the land.

Blest are they who hunger and thirst for holiness; they shall have their fill.

Blest are they who show mercy; mercy shall be theirs.

Blest are the single-hearted for they shall see God.

Blest too are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.

Blest are those who are persecuted for holiness sake, the reign of God is theirs.

Blest are they when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of slander against you because of me. (Matthew 5, 3-11)

My parents were great examples of giving – they gave of themselves to each other, and they gave of themselves to others: me and my brothers and sisters, their parents, our parish, the poor in the community. However, my folks claimed none of the credit. They said they were just following the example of Jesus and the call of Jesus; and this is how they wanted us to live as well.

Questions:

How did your parents (or other family members) set an example for you of Jesus’ giving?

To what extent are we called to live as Jesus did?

To give up everything we own and preach the Gospel?

To give up our lives?

To confront those who are obstacles to belief in God?

To be a disciple of Jesus is to embark on a spiritual journey which asks every person to walk with the Lord, to imitate the pattern of Jesus’ life, to follow His example of service to others. It involves the willingness to take up the cross, to endure the difficult, to be willing to give up one’s life for others, only to discover the rich paradox of reward which comes from discipleship. Archbishop Thomas J. Murphy USA Catholics: are we our Brothers’ and Sisters’ Keepers? (from Chicago Studies, April 1991, Volume 30 #1)
